

BUILDING A GLOBAL LEGACY

Diamond Directors

David and Ann Feinstein

help people around the world build their dreams.

Photography by Michael Miller

After 15 very successful years in the network marketing profession, with a team that numbered over 200,000 winners in 15 countries, David and Ann Frisstein were looking for a new company they could get passionate about. As both would have it, they received a call from friend and author Agil Triple Business Director Randy Schneider about a new company that was unlike any he had ever seen. Randy told us about this brand-new product line as well as a new delivery system and everything about it just sounded exciting," David says.

David and Ann themselves made the first meeting show. Agil was invited as a new company. "Agil came along at the right time," says David. "We were looking to be affiliated with a company that was new, powerful, and would have a product that our family would use and enjoy. And we found that—and much more—in Agil."

"There are moments in time where you just get it," says Ann, recalling the phone conversation with Schneider for their opinion Agil had a brand-new product innovation and a revolutionary compensation plan that had raised the bar for the industry. One that allows you to start earning money quickly. "A person coming into this business can see a clear path of how to make money," David says. "And the Leveraged Marketing System, we felt, was significant in creating a strong team atmosphere—an atmosphere of people working together to help each other succeed."

"It's an opportunity for anyone to build a global business."

The massive team record of Agil's management team was another huge selling factor for David and Ann and gave them the confidence they were joining together with a team of professionals who had previously grown small businesses internationally. "We were also deeply moved by the sincerity and the integrity of the entire management team and they all have become good friends of ours," says Ann, impressed at the level of involvement they have taken with the field leadership. "They have a wonderful perspective on the energy and activity that it takes to build a successful business. They are very responsive to our needs and have been incredibly encouraging as we continue to build our business domestically and internationally."

David says that the look and portable nature of the product is just one of the many benefits. "There is no limit on demographics for our products. They are not gender or age specific, which is very exciting to us," Ann agrees, saying, "Our products are sleek and easy with a look all their own and are a great way to share the opportunity. Beyond that a conversation like that with a bottle of health pills."

Ann and David are very optimistic about the future because of Agil's flexibility to open up pathways to meet the business of their unique compensation plan and globally accepted product line. "This is why in the last 15 months we've been able to open almost 40 countries to quickly," Ann says. "This is very exciting for people who are interested in making their business another international market. It's giving everybody a level playing field and allows others to talk with their friends in other countries about Agil."

There is a great deal about Agil that we and our team don't every forget," Ann says.

And this excitement is not only capturing the attention of many people who have never been exposed to network marketing, but seasoned network marketers who are intrigued by Agil's unique product and innovative compensation plan. "We are attracting more leaders from the network marketing industry around the world and more have joined us," David says. "There is a real buzz about Agil right now and we hear about it every single day," Ann adds, "and the proof is in the fact that many people are leaving long-standing businesses to create what we call a Legacy position here at Agil."

There's the first time in the world that's ever in network marketing that they have started to partner together. "We're building something for our entire family—together," Ann says emphatically. "Network marketing has allowed us to make friends and give pleasure we never dreamed we'd ever get to. And Agil has taken that dream to another level."

"It's an opportunity for anyone to build a global business," David says in conclusion. "That is the beauty of Agil. That truly it's as much fun to do this business. We have team members who are working around the world, in different time zones—all able to share in the efforts of their words of people who have the same hopes and dreams that we do." 